In California, this provision does not apply where the seller of travel has remitted payment to another registered wholesale seller of travel or a carrier without obtaining a refund, and where the wholesaler or provider defaults in providing the agreed upon transportation or service. In this situation, the seller of travel must provide the traveler with a written statement accompanied by bank records to establish the disbursement of the payment and if disbursed to a wholesale seller of travel, proof of that wholesaler's current registration. Seller of Travel Disclosures; State of California law requires certain sellers of travel to have a trust account or bond. Let's Go That Way is an independent affiliate of Nexion, which has a trust account to be a participant in the State of California Consumer Restitution Fund (TCRF). Eligible travelers may file a claim with the TCRF if the traveler is owed a refund of more than $300 for the transportation or travel services which the seller of travel failed to forward to a proper provider or such money was not refunded to you when required. The maximum amount which may be paid by the TCRF to any one traveler is the total amount paid on behalf of the traveler to the seller of travel, not to exceed $15,000. A claim must be submitted to TCRF within 12 months after the scheduled completion date of travel. Claims must include sufficient documentation to prove your claim and a $35 processing fee. Claimants must agree to waive their right to other civil remedies against a registered participating seller of travel for matters arising out of a sale for which you file a TCRF claim. You may request a claim form by writing to: Travel Consumer Restitution Corporation, PO Box 6001, Lockspur, CA 94977-6001; or by visiting TCRC website at: www.tcrinfo.org If you are purchasing from outside of California, this transaction is not covered by the California Travel Restitution Fund.

Updated information regarding security measures and requirements for air travel are available at www.tsa.gov. It is highly recommended that travelers check this website prior to travel to their scheduled destination. All U.S. citizens traveling to or from any international destination must have a valid passport which must be valid for a minimum of six months beyond the return travel date. Hotel accommodation is subject to availability at the time of reservation. Some hotels require NONREFUNDABLE and NON-TRANSFERABLE deposits to guarantee a booking. In such cases, we will notify you for the NON-REFUNDABLE prepayment for that portion of the trip. Amenities such as elevators, air conditioning, bedding size, etc., are not guaranteed in all properties. In addition, even if a property has amenities such as air conditioning or elevator, it is not guaranteed that it will be operational or available during your stay. Reimbursement for lack of amenities is solely the responsibility of the hotels, and while we may act as an intermediary, we cannot be held responsible for such reimbursement under any circumstances.

Special Travel Needs (accessibility, disabilities)

If you have disabilities or special needs that may require non-emergency special services, additional support or accommodation of a disability you should advise us in advance of booking so that we can request assistance or arrange for appropriate services or equipment. In some cases when you are unable to use your own wheelchairs, mobility devices, medical equipment or devices, rental of special equipment or devices may result in additional charges. Airlines may impose charges for additional baggage and may have size restrictions for wheelchairs they can accommodate. If you travel with a service animal or emotional support animal, some suppliers may require advance arrangements and special documentation for the animal's health and training. Countries outside the United States and Canada have laws and regulations that often apply different standards or accommodation for persons with disabilities or special needs. We will assist travelers with disabilities or special needs however, we are not responsible for the failure of suppliers to meet your needs when the supplier follows laws and regulation of local jurisdictions. Additionally, the laws and regulations of local jurisdictions covering travelers with disabilities or special needs may change in the legal or regulatory realm of the places you visit on your trip. Some destinations may have limited medical facilities or limited availability of prescription medications. You should consult your health provider about your trip. Some travel insurance plans may provide access to emergency medical care, medical evacuation, and replacement of prescription medications. We STRONGLY RECOMMEND THE PURCHASE OF COMPREHENSIVE TRAVEL INSURANCE.

Air Arrangements

Please note that most airlines consider a name change to be a cancellation. Travelers are responsible to confirm airline baggage allowances for all flights. International flights may have different requirements than domestic flights. Excess luggage fees are the responsibility of the traveler. Tickets of any kind are payable in full and are NON-REFUNDABLE at the time of booking.

Airline tickets are completely NONREFUNDABLE and NONEXCHANGEABLE once purchased. We are not responsible for any loss, accident, injury, delay, defect, omission, or irregularity which may occur, such as changes, additional expenses, and cancellations due to weather conditions, schedule changes and other changes beyond our control. You agree to abide by safety guidelines of all airlines and hold us harmless from any liability due to airline restrictions. Airline seat assignments are not complimentary on every airline. Charges for pre-assigned seats in advance of flight time may be subject to additional charges from those carriers. We cannot guarantee seats in specific locations or next to each other. This is strictly based on availability at the time seats are being selected. Airlines are at liberty to change the aircraft and seat assignment at any time. We cannot be held responsible for any changes made by an airline or any additional charges imposed by those airlines, or any seats after they have been selected and paid in advance.

Hazardous Materials and Insecticides

All passengers are prohibited by Federal law from bringing hazardous materials aboard aircraft in their luggage or on their person. Violations can result in up to five year's imprisonment and penalties of $250,000 or more (49 U.S.C. 5124). Such materials include explosives, compressed gases, flammable fluids and solids, oxidizers, poisons, corrosives and radioactive materials. Examples: paints, lighter fluid, fireworks, tear gases, oxygen bottles and radiopharmaceuticals. There are special exceptions for small quantities (up to 70 ounces total) of medical and toilet articles carried in your luggage and certain smoking materials on your person. You should contact your airline's representative on your itinerary.

Restrictions on hazardous materials are listed at <http://www.tsa.gov/traveler-information/prohibited-items>.

We recommend that you refer to the Department of Transportation (DOT) list of airports in countries that require airlines to treat passenger cabins with insecticides prior to the flight or while on the aircraft. This list is on the DOT's website as updated from time to time. <http://www.dot/officepolicy/aviation/aircraft-disinfection-requirements>.

Responsibilities and Liability

We provide a service in arranging accommodation, transportation, sightseeing, admissions, and any other services from third parties as agreed in each itinerary. We shall not be held liable for any injury, damage, loss, accident, delay, or irregularity which may be occasioned by any company or person engaged in conveying the passengers, providing the services, or otherwise in connection therewith, of any hotel owner, manager or employee. We do not own or operate, nor are we an agent of any of the Suppliers which will provide goods and services for the trip or any option which may be available in connection with the trip. Countries have different laws regarding entry for persons with criminal records. It is your responsibility to know destination entry laws if you or anyone in your party has a criminal record. We do not inquire about an individual's criminal record in the interest of respecting our clients' privacy. Refusal of entry is not a valid reason for cancellation or chargeback.

You agree to seek remedies directly with the Supplier and not hold us liable in the event of negligence, loss, injury, delay or expense which results directly or indirectly from any action or omission, whether negligent, criminal or otherwise, of any entity providing goods and services for the trip or any available option. You also agree not to hold us liable for circumstances beyond our control (e.g. Force Majeure, terrorism, war, or acts of God). You expressly release and hold us harmless against any and all liability from suits and demands of any kind, now and in the future that may occur out of or in connection with your travel or participation in activities arranged by us.

In the event an airline or travel supplier declares bankruptcy, it is not obligated to transport you or to provide refunds. Money given to our Agency immediately becomes the property of the airline or travel supplier as required by law. We are not allowed to provide refunds for suppliers who have declared bankruptcy. If an airline or travel supplier declares bankruptcy, it might continue services or stop completely. Other airlines or travel suppliers may, but do not have to, provide alternative services.

Travel During a Pandemic or Other Health Advisories

You are fully aware of the current global Coronavirus COVID-19 virus outbreak, current travel restrictions, and inherent risks involved in choosing to travel. You are aware that certain countries, including the United States, may require testing and up to 14 or more days quarantine upon entering the country, as well as testing and quarantine upon returning to the United States and/or your country of residence. All travelers, including U.S. Citizens, shall refer to the current CDC guidelines, country-specific guidelines, and supplier requirements (including but not limited to airline, hotel, and cruise line) regarding testing and documentation requirements. If you do not adhere to current regulations or provide any required testing results or documentation, you may be denied boarding, entry, and/or return to the United States or your country of residence.

Currently, the CDC requires all travelers to obtain a viral test for current infection of COVID-19 within three days before their flight to the United States. Passengers must provide written documentation of negative test results to airlines and provide paper or electronic documentation of negative tests or recovery from COVID-19. If you do not provide documentation or negative test or recovery or choose not to be tested, airlines MUST deny boarding.

You understand that it is your responsibility to check the latest travel information advisories and requirements from CDC regarding COVID-19 and requirements for any related travel advisory.

<https://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/traveladvisories/ea/travel-advisory-alert-globallevel-4-health-advisory-issue.html>

The CDC also recommends testing again 3 to 5 days after arrival and to stay home 7 days after travel. We are in no way responsible for passenger testing. Airlines are not responsible for testing. You understand that there is uncertainty regarding the availability of proper testing in destination countries for return to the United States. You are aware that screening procedures and restrictions may take place at airports and in public areas. Restrictions may include mandatory face coverings and/or temperature checks in airports, hotels, cruise ships, trains or other means of transport. You are aware that immigration restrictions may be put in place before or during travel that could impede your ability to enter/exit your destination as planned. If you decline to purchase travel insurance that includes coverage for medical needs while traveling and coverage for trip delay, you assume all personal and financial loss should you cancel your trip or suffer losses during the course of travel. Insurance claims will only be paid for covered reasons stated in the insurance policy.

We reference what we know as current CDC guidelines for Covid-19. Policies may change before your travel, during your travel, and after your travel return. Countries outside the United States and/or suppliers, including airlines and hotels, may have different guidelines for travel during a pandemic or epidemic. It is your responsibility to be aware of any pandemic or epidemic related restrictions. You are aware of all travel warnings; travel restrictions and rules and you understand the risks. You accept them and hold us harmless for any travel restrictions, death, illness, cancellations by suppliers, hotels, airlines, cruise lines, tour agencies or any other travel provider including financial loss, quarantining rules or measures put in place at airports or destinations you travel through. Further, you hold us harmless for any financial penalties or fees imposed by suppliers, airlines, cruise lines, tour agencies or any other travel provider due to cancellations or postponements due to COVID-19 and you agree not to institute a credit card charge back for such legitimate penalties or fees. We are not responsible for acts or omissions or suppliers or their failure to adhere to their own schedules, providing services or refunds, financial default, or failure to honor trip credits. And, we have no special knowledge about the financial condition of suppliers and we have no liability for recommending a trip credit or a refund.

You understand that concerns or fear of travel are not a covered reason for cancellation relating to the Coronavirus Covid-19. Insurance claims will only be paid for covered reasons as stated in the insurance policy. You hold us harmless for your election to not purchase travel insurance and hold us harmless for denial of claim by insurer as it relates to COVID-19 or any other claim under the policy. Please note that insurance policies have a specific clause stating that they do not cover epidemics and pandemics, especially when travel warnings are in place.

Force Majeure and Post-Covid Travel

We shall not be liable for any circumstances beyond our control, including, but not limited to, acts of God, explosions, flood, forceful wind, fire or accident, war or threat of war, declared or undeclared, acts of terrorism, sabotage, insurrection, riots, strikes, civil disobedience, sickness, epidemics, pandemics, quarantines, government intervention, weather conditions, defects in machinery or vehicles, delays or other unforeseen events (collectively, "Force Majeure"). We shall not be liable to you and shall not provide any refunds caused by delay or non-performance of any obligation under this agreement to the extent any such delay is due to Force Majeure. If any of our travel Suppliers are affected by Force Majeure, they shall be entitled at their sole discretion to vary or cancel any itinerary or arrangement in relation to your trip without notice.

Passports, Visas and Driver's Licenses

It is your responsibility to be familiar with the laws and rules governing any visit to any country or region. We may be able to assist you in acquiring the necessary travel documents upon your request. It is not our responsibility to determine if any such documents are required. We will not be held responsible in any way if you fail to have the proper Visas and/or documentation for entry into any country or region. It is your responsibility to determine which documents are needed and to acquire that documentation. If an accident occurs and you seek assistance from us, any and all alternate arrangements will be your financial responsibility. It is your responsibility to ensure your passports are up to date and valid to enter any country. It is not our responsibility to determine the validity of your passport or any other travel document to enter any country or region.

Any arbitral award determination shall be final and binding upon the Parties. Judgment on the arbitrator's award may be entered in any court of competent jurisdiction. Each Party shall pay their own costs and fees. Claims necessitating arbitration under this section include, but are not limited to, contract claims, tort claims, claims based on federal and state law, rules and regulations. The Parties waive all rights to have their disputes heard or decided by a jury or in a court trial and the right to pursue any class or collective claims against each other in court, arbitration, or any other proceeding, unless expressly permitted herein. Each party shall only submit their own individual claims against the other and will not seek to represent the interests of any other person. The arbitrator shall have no jurisdiction or authority to compel any class or collective claim, or to consolidate different arbitration proceedings with or join any other party to an arbitration between the Parties.
